5. Definitions

At Ryefields School, Relationships and Sex Education (RSE) is integrated into our Personal, Social, Health, and Economic (PSHE) education curriculum. The delivery is structured, inclusive, and tailored to meet the needs of all students, including those with Autism Spectrum Condition (ASC), Dyslexia, and Speech, Language, and Communication Needs (SLCN).

RSE is about the emotional, social and cultural development of pupils, and involves learning about relationships, sexual health, sexuality, healthy lifestyles, diversity and personal identity.

RSE involves a combination of sharing information, and exploring issues and values.

RSE is not about the promotion of sexual activity.

6. Policy development

To ensure our Relationships and Sex Education (RSE) policy remains effective, inclusive, and aligned with statutory requirements, we have a structured review process that includes input from staff, parents, pupils, and governors.

This policy has been developed in consultation with staff, pupils and parents. The consultation and policy development process involved the following steps:

1. Policy Review Cycle

The RSE policy will be reviewed annually by the Senior Leadership Team (SLT) and the designated RSE Lead.

The review will consider curriculum updates, legislative changes, feedback from stakeholders, and emerging issues in education and safeguarding.

Adjustments will be made based on student needs, best practices, and national guidance from the Department for Education (DfE) and PSHE Association.

2. Staff Consultation

All teaching and support staff involved in RSE delivery will be consulted to ensure the policy supports effective teaching and addresses classroom challenges.

Aurora

Staff will be invited to feedback during CPD sessions, staff meetings, and anonymous surveys to share their experiences and suggestions.

Training needs identified during consultation will be addressed in future CPD sessions to ensure staff feel confident in delivering RSE.

3. Parent Consultation

Parents/carers will be consulted every two years or when significant policy changes are proposed.

Consultation will include information evenings, online surveys, and opportunities for direct feedback to ensure parents are informed and their perspectives are considered.

Parents will be provided with clear guidance on the RSE curriculum, resources, and the right to withdraw from non-statutory aspects of Sex Education.

4. Pupil Consultation

Pupil voice is essential to ensure the curriculum is relevant, engaging, and meets the needs of all learners.

Consultation will be conducted through student surveys, school council discussions, and focus groups, ensuring diverse student perspectives are considered.

Feedback will inform curriculum planning, lesson delivery methods, and support strategies for students with additional needs.

5. Ratification by the Governing Body

Once the policy has been reviewed and revised based on stakeholder feedback, it will be presented to the Governing Body for final ratification.

Governors will assess the policy to ensure it is inclusive, compliant with statutory requirements, and reflects the school's values and ethos.

The ratified policy will be published on the school website and shared with staff, parents, and students.

6. Monitoring and Evaluation

The effectiveness of RSE delivery will be evaluated through lesson observations, student progress assessments, and feedback from all stakeholders.

Any significant issues or concerns raised will be addressed promptly, ensuring the policy remains relevant, inclusive, and responsive to the needs of the school community.

7. Curriculum

At Aurora Ryefields School we define Relationships and Sex Education as learning about the emotional, social and physical aspects of growing up, relationships, sex, human sexuality and sexual health. The purpose of Relationships and Sex Education (RSE) at Aurora

Aurora

Ryefields is to assist our pupils to prepare for adult life through physical, emotional and moral support. Significantly this policy places RSE firmly in the context of relationships as a whole and seeks to develop it as such. We will emphasize the understanding of the importance for families of stable, caring, responsible and loving relations between adults.

Relationships and Sex Education is an excellent forum to provide pupils with life-skills that will enable them to make informed decisions and protect themselves against harmful and exploitative situations. Relationships and Sex Education is therefore a tool to safeguard children. We recognise that our pupils are more vulnerable to exploitation, bullying and other issues due to the nature of their SEND.

Relationships and Sex Education contributes to the foundation of PSHE and Citizenship and offers a valuable vehicle for promoting equality between individuals and groups. It involves an exploration of human and social diversity, and a fostering of self-worth whilst recognising, accepting and respecting differences.

Due to the nature of our pupils RSE is taught in a considerate and delicate way, ensuring that pupils feel comfortable and confident to ask questions. We believe that relationship and sex education is particularly important for our pupils because some do not have access to wider friends and networks and therefore rely on the internet to gain information. This can impact on a pupil's views, outlook and expectations around relations and sex.

We ensure that RSE is inclusive and meets the needs of all our pupils, including those with special educational needs and different religious views. Pupils follow different pathways through the RSE curriculum. Many pupils have been out of education for some time before joining us. Others may be less mature or more vulnerable and therefore content and coverage is adapted to meet their needs and address gaps appropriately.

RSE is not delivered in isolation. It is taught in subjects including Personal, Social, Health Education (PSHE), Computing and Science. This includes lessons on how to keep themselves safe both in the physical world and in the online world, how to keep their bodies' safe and what to do if they are worried about any changes to their body.

Our RSE programme is an integral part of our whole school PSHE education provision, following the PSHE Association schemes of work, and will cover a wide range of topics that affect pupils. Pupils will be taught on a 'stage not age' programme to ensure specific needs are met, at the right time.

Teachers and pupils will agree ground rules at the start of the year which will be adhered to in all sessions, ensuring that pupils have an understanding that what is said in RSE lessons can be quite sensitive. Pupils will be encouraged not to talk about sensitive personal experiences in the groups. This ensures other pupils do not find out sensitive information about a child or situations they may have been through in the past, although staff will always be available to support any responses to difficult topics and will ensure support is offered where needed.

Teachers are aware that effective RSE, which brings an understanding of what is and what is not appropriate in a relationship, can lead to a disclosure of a child protection or safeguarding issue. Pupils will be aware that if staff think that there might be a safeguarding issue, a safeguarding officer within the school will be informed.

Aurora

Pupils will be able to raise questions anonymously by using approaches such as the 'ask it basket'. The teacher can either address the issues raised by a pupil in private if they wish or address the question as part of a lesson. Pupils' questions will always be answered. We believe that providing accurate information is the most effective way to ensure pupils have a sound understanding.

As part of our whole school approach to RSE, parents are encouraged to contact us if they wish to discuss any aspect of what will be delivered. We are happy to arrange a phone conversation, or a face-to-face meeting as required. Parents will be made aware of any sensitive topics being covered in class.

Due to the vulnerabilities and needs of our cohort, we teach consent and appropriate / inappropriate touch / reporting in every year throughout school.

8. Delivery of RSE

RSE is delivered through our PSHE curriculum. We may on occasion link to external professionals such as the School nurse to support delivery. The biological processes of reproduction are covered in both RSE and Science lessons. Wider aspects of RSE are covered through the PSHE/RSE curriculum.

Structure of RSE Delivery

Standalone RSE Topics (Taught Exclusively in PSHE Lessons)

These topics require a dedicated focus and are delivered as standalone lessons within PSHE:

- Healthy friendships and relationships
- Consent and personal boundaries
- Recognising and managing different types of relationships (family, friends, romantic)
- Online safety, including risks of social media and digital relationships
- Emotional well-being, self-esteem, and resilience
- Managing peer pressure and developing assertiveness skills
- Recognising and responding to unhealthy relationships, including bullying and coercion
- LGBTQ+ inclusion and respecting differences
- The impact of the media on body image and self-perception

RSE Topics Covered in Science

Some biological aspects of RSE are integrated into the Science curriculum, ensuring students gain a factual understanding of human development and reproduction:

- Puberty and physical changes (Year 5-8)
- Human reproduction, conception, and birth (Year 7-8)
- The menstrual cycle and bodily changes (Year 6-8)
- The role of hormones in human development (Year 7-8)

Aurora

- Health and hygiene, including menstrual health (Year 6-8)

RSE Topics Covered in Religious Education (RE)

RE provides a space to explore moral, ethical, and cultural perspectives on relationships and family life, encouraging respect and understanding of different beliefs:

- Marriage, family structures, and commitment across different cultures and religions
- Moral and ethical considerations of relationships, including faith-based perspectives on marriage and sexuality
- The role of relationships in faith communities
- Values such as respect, compassion, and responsibility in relationships

For some of our young people, issues may arise where additional support is needed around risky behaviours or there may be areas where a young person needs a more specific piece of work. In such cases, we may draw on the expertise of our clinical team to offer tailored input, advice and/or guidance.

9. Safeguarding and child protection

At Aurora Ryefields School we are aware that discussion with children and young people during RSE lessons, may lead to a disclosure. If this happens we will follow the procedures described in our Child Protection Policy. Ensuring that the needs of the child/young person are met sensitively and in a timely manner are paramount to everything that we believe in.

10. Parents right to withdraw

Parents of primary age pupils do not have the right to withdraw their children from relationships education. Parents of secondary age pupils do have the right to withdraw their children from the non-statutory components of sex education within RSE up to and until 3 terms before the child turns 16. After this point, if the child wishes to receive sex education rather than being withdrawn, the school will arrange this.

To opt a child/young person out of RSE lessons, complete Appendix 2 and return it to the Head Teacher who will then arrange a meeting to discuss your request with you.

11. Training

Staff are trained on the delivery of RSE as part of our continuing professional development calendar.

The headteacher may also invite visitors from outside the school, such as school nurses or sexual health professionals, to provide support and training to staff teaching RSE

1. Staff Training for RSE

CPD Workshops – Regular professional development sessions to refresh knowledge and address emerging topics in RSE.

Lesson Observations & Feedback – Staff receive constructive feedback on RSE lesson delivery, with opportunities to improve practice.

2. RSE Curriculum Followed

3. Ensuring Consistency and Quality in RSE Delivery

Lesson Planning Support – Staff have access to pre-approved lesson plans, ensuring consistency in delivery.

Student Feedback Mechanisms – We gather feedback from students to refine content and teaching approaches.

Parental Engagement – Parents are kept informed about RSE topics and given guidance on supporting discussions at home.
